For BNFIX Advisory partners' this division is mainly addressed to SMB (small and medium businesses), public entities, foundations and other associations, SMB sized, who need trusted advisors and consultants to help them structure and carry out the projects that could be financed by new funds announced by the EU and the Spanish Government.

The EU's own slogan "Think Small First," emphasizes that the best ones to give advice and coverage, are those who have shared experiences, have known you for a long time and know about your needs and projects. Without a doubt, we are the right firm to guide you throughout this process.

This new division, recently created and headed by the national partner BNFIX Advisory, is composed of more than fifty professionals from different areas, including lawyers, economists, auditors, experts in labour law, IT, restructuring and refinancing, internationalisation and corporate. This project requires experienced multi-disciplinary and steady teams, characteristics that have always been the hallmark of BNFIX.

BNFIX Advisory's partners point out that:

"This project requires experienced, multi-disciplinary and steady teams; these characteristics have always been a must have in BNFIX, because our priority are the clients, not the impersonal cases."

This project has been organised in sub - areas, with people responsible for providing and integrating, bespoke and specialised services to each client, depending on the type of organisation, private or public, size of the organisation and sector, that would require our help.

BNFIX Advisory, with wide experience in European management and with partners used to the legislative and regulatory framework of the EU, with dedicated experts and proven track record in SMBs and the public sector with the according size, state that:

"As a country, we cannot afford for our companies to miss this opportunity, and because of our team of specialists the areas we are interested in helping are the SMBs, business clusters, interest groups, technology and innovation centres, as well as foundations, non-profit associations, public business sector entities, public utility entities, among others, which for various reasons the large corporations cannot and do not know how to reach, and with which we are on a daily basis and are aware of their needs and future challenges."

From the international area of BNFIX, as members of the EME Steering Committee of the international network DFK International, they have already stated that:

"We are going to pay, of course, a lot of attention to small and medium-sized business. They cannot be left out or appear in a smaller section next to larger projects; they need special care as they represent more than 90% of our business network. This aid must reach SMBs, and if anyone knows them well, it is us, medium-sized firms, and offices like BNFIX."

BNFIX has proven its solid commitment to supporting the economic sector of our country by strengthening the restructuring, refinancing, and insolvency areas, which have seen its experts multiply during the last year.
